ALBAFORM – FIRST CZECH INVESTMENT IN GEORGIA

ALBAform, Inc., a manufacturer of metal components for the automotive industry, officially opened its plant in Flowery Branch, GA, on September 23. Its parent company ALBA-METAL is based in Ladna near Breclav in the Czech Republic. Minister of Foreign Affairs Jan Kohout and Ambassador Petr Gandalovic joined Georgia Lt. Governor Casey Cagle and other local dignitaries at the opening ceremony.

ALBAform is the first Czech company to open a production facility in Georgia with an investment of approximately $2.5 million. The plant will create more than 30 jobs in the local community. The customers of ALBAform include car makers such as BMW or Mercedes-Benz.

ALBAform follows in the footsteps of Mitas, a Czech tire manufacturer that opened its plant in Iowa last year, as the Czech Republic strives to become a stronger investor in the United States. More information can be found at www.albaform.com.

ECONOMIC BRIEFS

Ceskoslovenska obchodni banka (CSOB) has become the winner of the Best Bank of 2013 contest in the Czech Republic, winning over 21 rival banking houses in a comparison of more than 200 criteria, according to the contest organizer, daily Hospodarske noviny. The CSOB bank stood out mainly due to its excellent business results. It showed the best values in rentability and quality of assets of all banks monitored. From the clients' viewpoints, it was assessed highly for its broad offer of products and services.

The number of economically active self-employed people rose by 2,000 to 996,000 in the Czech Republic in the first half of this year, according to data of the Czech Social Security Administration (CSSZ). In 2012, the number of self-employed persons dropped by 8,000 to 994,000. The category of the self-employed includes private doctors, artists and farmers, for example. In no other country of the European Union do the self-employed have such an influence on the country's economy as in the Czech Republic. Businesses which employ one to nine people account for more than 95 percent of companies in the Czech Republic and are the biggest employer in general. They employ more than one-third of all employees.

President Milos Zeman signed into law a government-sponsored bill reducing support to renewable energy that was approved by the Senate. Firms receiving support will have to reveal their owners under the new legislation. The law halts support to power from renewable sources to be launched as of January 1, 2014 and cuts support to renewable sources paid by consumers in their electricity bills. It aims to restrict impacts of the support on consumers and the state budget.

The Czech Republic placed 52nd in regards to economic freedom out of the 152 monitored countries in the world, according to the Economic Freedom of the World Index of Canadian institute Fraser. The index of the Czech Republic has reached 7.25. The figure is quite small with the freest countries. The index is composed of five indicators, among them the size of the state sector, the level of legislation, foreign trade and overall regulation. Monetary environment and inflation are also its part.

CZECH NATIONAL BANK DECIDES ON MONETARY INTERVENTIONS

The Czech National Bank Board decided at its November meeting to start using the exchange rate as an additional instrument for easing the monetary conditions. The CNB will intervene on the foreign exchange market to weaken the Czech crown so that the exchange rate of the koruna against the euro is close to CZK 27. The Central Bank said that, with interest rates close to zero, it would now start using the exchange rate "as an additional instrument for easing the monetary conditions". Market reaction was very swift and Czech crown dropped against the US dollar to the level of over 20 CZK/USD.

Miroslav Singer, CNB governor, confirmed afterwards that the central bank was acting in the market and would be there for the long term, telling reporters: "The question is not whether we stop in 2014, it is rather a question of if it will be enough."

Mr Singer, who has been advocating currency intervention for some months, said the central bank would either end its interventions or announce a stronger exchange rate target when it was "very, very, very sure" it would not have to backtrack, and would therefore wait for "very significant inflation pressures" to build.

"We are able to intervene virtually without limits, as much and for as long is necessary," central bank Governor said. "A low inflation rate forces us to act," he added. While the central bank's annual inflation target is 2%, inflation was 1% in September and the central bank expects it to move toward zero next year.

This was the central bank's first intervention in 11 years, and Mr. Singer said the bank board was aware of potential risks. "Definitely the foreign-exchange rate has an impact and rising prices can lower [consumer] demand to a point, but we're an export-oriented country" and so bolstering exports and lifting inflation are more urgent, the governor said.

The Czech National Bank had been warning for a year that it may weaken the koruna as it seeks to prop up economic growth.

First reactions were mixed, some applauded Bank's move as credible and positive for the Czech economy. Others questioned the timing of the intervention as it will make Christmas purchases of foreign goods more costly to Czech consumers and because the economy has been moderately improving already before the intervention.

CZECH IT COMPANIES AT XCHANGE AMERICAS 2013

Five Czech companies participated in the XChange Americas 2013 conference in Fort Washington on August 18-20. This annual event is focused on providers of complex IT solutions, mainly for medium and large customers. Czech participation was supported by a financial contribution from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic.

The following companies participated in the conference: Instar – www.instarna.com, iCORD – www.icord.cz, Sprinx Systems – www.sprinx.com, Invea-Tech – www.invea.cz, OK System – www.oksystem.cz

Tomas Hart, Economic Counselor of the Embassy in Washington, and Jan Fried, Director of the Ministry of Industry and Trade Office in New York (CzechInvest), were both present at the conference to assist the Czech companies. The participation was also supported by the Czech ICT Alliance (www.czechict.cz)

For the Czech companies, the main benefit of the participation was the opportunity to be in direct contact with US technology vendors that sell solutions directly to final customers. As the event took place near Washington, DC, many of these vendors do business with customers in the federal government and thus the systems' security and reliability are critical.

Two of the above listed companies, Instar and Sprinx Systems, already have representation in the United States and two more are considering the opening of an office. The Embassy will do its best to support this expansion and such Czech investments in the US would strengthen Czech-US economic relations.

CZECH COMPANIES IN PITTSBURGH

President of the Senate of the Czech Republic Milan Stech visited Pittsburgh in October 2013 on the occasion of celebrating the 95th anniversary of the Pittsburgh Agreement which prescribed the intent to create an independent Czechoslovakia after World War I. Milan Stech brought along several Czech companies, particularly from the IT, health and real estate sectors. Corinth, Zentity, Health&Safety, CNS, Olive Hill Development and Prague Investment Corporation were among the companies taking part in the business mission.

Allegheny Conference, the main business partner supporting economic development of ten counties in Pittsburgh region, hosted a business breakfast for Milan Stech and local entrepreneurs. It was followed by B2B meetings. The Czech companies also visited Pittsburgh Technology Council (www.pghtech.org), which supports the development of new technology companies and Innovation Works, which has an interest in investing in new developing companies.

During his visit, Milan Stech made use of the fact that exploration and drilling of shale gas is taking place in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. He visited the rig of Penn Energy, which explores a region approximately 30 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

INVESTMENT BRIEFS

The Czech Government has approved the new research program Delta that will be the first to support international cooperation of Czech R&D organizations with their foreign partners. The program will receive CZK 0.75 bln (39.5 million USD) from the state budget.

Czech Energy and Industry Holding managed by businessman Daniel Kretinsky is about to buy German brown-coal district Helmstedt containing a coal plant Buschhaus from an energy group E.ON. The contract is just about to be made. E.ON has neither confirmed nor disproved this information. The purchase price is not yet known.

Smith Medial Czech Republic ceremoniously began operation of its new plant at CTPark in Hranice, in the Prerov region. The plant will produce single-use medical devices to support breathing and drug delivery. The company will employ up to 300 people there upon full completion of the project within roughly one year. CzechInvest helped to mediate the investment.

American Amazon intends to build two logistic and distribution centres of ten hectares close to Prague and Brno and according to the information of the E15 newspaper it will cost approximately CZK 1 bln (52.7 million USD). This is according to the project documentation of the developer Goodman for the locality in Jenec, but the developer Panattoni which offers plots in Dobroviz near the Prague airport also endeavours to get the order. Construction is planned to begin in the third quarter of the year 2013 and to end in the middle of year 2014. The complex will probably employ 1,000 people.

Continental Barum plans to invest almost CZK 2.5 bln (133.3 million USD) into expanded truck tire production. The plant in Ostrokovice, Zlin District, will offer more than 290 new jobs. This is the largest investment mediated by CzechInvest in the first six months of this year.

PRESENTING CZECH IT COMPANY OK SYSTEM

The terrace of the Czech National Building in New York City held the successful presentation of Czech IT company OK System on June 27.

The Consulate General of the Czech Republic in New York held this presentation as a part of its long-term strategy to promote Czech companies in the field of information technology and assist same in entering the demanding U.S. market.

The event was opened by Martin Dvorak, the Consul General of the Czech Republic in New York, followed by the director of the company, Martin Kudrnac. The event focused on introducing OK System, which is gradually gaining ground on the U.S. market, and helping the company establish important commercial and business contacts.

The event was attended by over 70 potential and current partners of OK System, which included Microsoft, Oracle, Cisco, Hewlett Packard, Nowell, Web Associates, QTS and more.

MILITARY TRADE SHOW AUSA – FIRST PARTICIPATION OF CZECH COMPANIES

The Czech Republic has, for the first time, officially participated at the AUSA (Association of the United States Army, www.ausa.org) in Washington, DC. The trade show that took place on October 21 – 23, 2013, is a significant event that takes place every year and presents the largest companies from the security and defense sector (Raytheon, Boeing) as well as individual countries that want to present their best technology and emphasize their allied relations (eg. France, Israel, Germany, Czech Republic and also United Arab Emirates). The Czech Republic, under the auspices of Defense and Security Industry Association, was represented by the following companies and organizations: Crytur, CVUT, DICOM, ESC Aerospace, Lemax, Meopta, MESIT, Network Security Monitoring Cluster, PBS Velka Bites, Sellier&Bellott, S.P.M., Stap and VR Group.

The AUSA offered Czech companies a great opportunity to establish B2B contacts with the largest US companies.

Since 2012 Reciprocal Defence Procurement Agreement (RDPA) is in effect between the Czech Republic and USA. This gives companies from both countries equal position in tenders for the other country's defence procurement.

Company Ceska zbrojovka launched an assembly plant in Brazil. It will transfer part of its production abroad for the first time. The plant will be producing pistol CZ P-07.

Export Guarantee and Insurance Corporation's (EGAP) insurance capacity will grow by CZK 10 bln (526.7 million USD) to CZK 280 bln (14.7 billion USD). The increase is possible thanks to the amendment to the state budget act signed by President Milos Zeman. The government subsidy supplementing the pension funds was raised by CZK 500 mln (26.3 million USD). The change will enable EGAP to finance more business cases. The insurance capacity boost was proposed by Petr Necas' cabinet due to higher demand for insurance from Czech exporters.

GE Aviation has signed an agreement with the company CAIGA which has become the first authorized maintenance provider for the H80 family of aircraft engines in China. Thrush Aircraft, a company based in the American state of Georgia, has placed a major order for H80 engines, which are manufactured in the Czech Republic, for its 510G agricultural planes. Thrush will deliver a total of twenty aircraft powered by these engines to its Chinese customer.

Czech Republic re-affirms its top rank in IT security. Beside two largest Czech IT companies AVG and Avast with their enormous profits, an American network giant Cisco is building a Central-European research centre in Prague that is to be aimed at IT security. Cognitive Security, a company which Cisco bought at the beginning of this year, shall transform into the research centre.

Czech National Bank (CNB) governor Miroslav Singer won the Central Bank Governor of the Year for Emerging Europe 2013 award that is presented by the Emerging Markets magazine. He received the award at an evening ceremony during the Annual Meetings of the World Bank (WB) Group and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in Washington on October 12.
