Young professionals programme

The United Nations is looking for highly qualified candidates who are ready to launch a professional career as an international civil servant. The young professionals programme (YPP) is a recruitment initiative that brings new talent to the United Nations through an annual entrance examination. For young, high-calibre professionals across the globe, the examination is a platform for launching a career at the United Nations. This programme builds upon the national competitive recruitment examination (NCRE) which was held for the last time in 2010.

Are you eligible to participate in the young professionals programme examination?

Do you hold at least a first-level university degree?

Are you 32 or younger by the end of this year?

Do you speak either English and/or French fluently?

Are you a national of a participating country?

The Examination

Written Part

- Specialized Paper: Multiple choice questions, essays and short questions in the substantive area, to be answered in any of the UN official languages. Each part of this paper will be eliminatory.
- General Paper: Summary, to be written in either English or French.

The Examination

- The overall time for the written examination:
4.5 hours
- Examinees are fully responsible for any expenses related to their travel to the examination centre.

The Examination

Oral Part

- Competency-based interview and possibly an oral presentation.

Useful tips for your interview:

At your interview

The United Nations' greatest asset is the quality of its staff. To ensure that our UN team we use a competency based interview process. Competency-based interviews, "behavioral interviews" or "criterion based interviews." Such interviews tell a story about you: your talents, skills, abilities, knowledge and variety of situations.

Competency interviewing questions can look like this:

- Tell us about a situation when you went above and beyond you
- Give an example of a time when you used your problem solving
- Tell us about a time where you had a number of demands being put on you? How did you handle it?

- UN Secretariat will use an online video conferencing tool, e.g. Skype, to reduce the travel cost.
