2024

Opening message

Dear Readers,

In 2024, Czech diplomacy again played a core role in ensuring Czechia's security and prosperity.

Our attention and activities continued to focus on Russia's military aggression against Ukraine and Russia's influence operations at home and in Europe. On all relevant multilateral forums and in our bilateral relations, we advocated support for Ukraine and a halt to Russia's aggression. The Czech ammunition initiative earned us a place among the countries able to exert their influence on the international scene through a specific project. By hosting the informal meeting of NATO Foreign Ministers in Prague, we helped lay down the groundwork for the outcomes of the Washington Summit, including assistance to Ukraine. The support we provided to Ukraine, namely in terms of the country's EU integration process, its aspirations to become a NATO member and its readiness for post-war reconstruction, had an equally important role to play. Our efforts to deter Russia contributed significantly not only to the defence of Ukraine but also to our own security. In doing so, we relied primarily on sanctions policy, linked to the EU sanctions regime. Strategic communication required a comparable commitment. Czechia is very committed to the rule-based international order and to respecting the UN Charter. This the fundamental vision behind our candidacy for a seat on the UN Security Council for 2032–2033.

In 2024, our attention was also drawn to other conflicts, especially the conflict that broke out in the Middle East following Hamas' brutal attack on Israel. Czechia stood up for Israel's right to defend itself in accordance with international law, and was involved in humanitarian aid in Gaza. We have long been in favour of a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

In 2024, we celebrated the 20th anniversary of our accession to the European Union and the 25th anniversary of our accession to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Membership in these organisations has made our country safer and more economically stable. It is through these organisations that we promote security and the values of democracy and freedom in Europe and worldwide. Particularly in these momentous times, we must reinforce these alliances every day in joint negotiations, in special coalitions and in bilateral contacts. Once the new US administration has taken office, the enduring task remains to maintain the transatlantic link whilst strongly emphasising the responsibility of our European allies for the security of our continent.

Czechia is a globally active country. In this regard, the important events were the appointment of Jozef Síkela as EU Commissioner for International Partnerships and the re-election of Czechia to the Human Rights Council for 2025–2027 by a significant majority. In 2024, I visited Australia as the first Czech Foreign Minister in 20 years. My visits to Japan, Türkiye, Brazil, Argentina, Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan gave a new impetus to bilateral relations, as did the President's trips to Israel, Qatar, Rwanda, Australia and New Zealand, and the Prime Minister's trips to India and the United States. An important moment, no doubt, was the negotiation of the new bilateral treaty with the Holy See, to which the government committed itself in its programme statement.

Czech economy is powered by successful exporters. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs and embassies play an indispensable role in promoting economic interests. Just as crucial is the role of our embassies and consulates in providing services to Czech citizens in need. We are working to continuously modernise our consular services. With the enactment of the postal ballot law, Czech citizens living abroad can vote comfortably for the first time.

Czech diplomacy did not sit idly by in the past year. On the contrary, it helped significantly not only to ensure the security and prosperity for Czech citizens, but also build the image of Czechia as a modern, confident and advanced country. I would like to warmly thank all those who worked on these tasks, both from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and other state institutions, as well as partners from the public, private and non-governmental sectors, without whom we would not have succeeded.

Minister of Foreign Affairs*

The world in 2024

Events unfolding in the international arena were driven mainly by Russia's continued aggression against Ukraine and the spread of the Israel-Hamas conflict to other territories in the Middle East. Geopolitical tensions rose; and ties between autocracies strengthened, especially among China, Russia, Iran and North Korea, with North Korea having deployed its troops to fight alongside Russian forces in Ukraine. The assassinations of the prominent Hamas leader and mastermind of the 7 October 2023 massacre of Israeli civilians, Yahya Sinwar, and of the Lebanese Hezbollah leader Hassan Nasrallah, brought a new dynamic to the Middle East. This was further underpinned by the overthrow of the Bashar Assad regime in Syria. Conflicts broke out also in other countries, including Myanmar, Sudan and the Sahel, and tensions in the South China Sea intensified.

Minister Lipavský at the press conference following the informal NATO Foreign Ministers meeting in Prague

In 2024, over half of the world's population voted in national elections. Most democracies saw a defeat of dominant political parties and some, such as Japan, were a witness to a historic defeat of parties ruling for decades. The polarisation of societies deepened and the topic of migration resonated strongly across Europe and in the United States. The most important outcome with global implications was the election of Donald Trump as President of the United States. In Europe, developments were marked by the announcement of snap elections in France and Germany alongside the regular European Parliament and UK elections.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization expanded on its 75th anniversary, with Sweden becoming the 32nd member of the Alliance. The main concerns in transatlantic relations continued to revolve around the support for Ukraine against Russia's aggression and around enhancement of NATO's defence capabilities, including the need to increase defence spending in particular on the part of European allies. A new command based in Germany for NATO Security Assistance and Training for Ukraine was launched, and NATO allies agreed to a minimum annual funding of EUR 40 billion for Ukraine defence assistance. The EU-NATO cooperation with Indo-Pacific partners (Australia, Japan, Republic of Korea, New Zealand) was strengthened and the Indo-Pacific partners were invited to the NATO Summit in Washington.

The elections to the European Parliament resulted in the formation of a new EU Commission whose priorities for the coming five-year term include upholding European values, strengthening security and defence, and bolstering Europe's competitiveness. The year that marked the 20th anniversary of the EU's great enlargement also saw progress in integration efforts. Accession negotiations with Ukraine and Moldova were launched, a decision to open accession negotiations with Bosnia and Herzegovina was taken, and Bulgaria and Romania were admitted to the Schengen area. The EU continued its support for Ukraine, having created a new financial instrument worth EUR 50 billion for the country's recovery and reconstruction. A trade agreement with Latin American countries was finalised.

The growing influence of countries beyond the transatlantic zone and their increasing interest in reforming global governance in a bid to gain greater participation is best reflected by the UN Secretary-General's Pact for the Future and the G20 Summit chaired by Brazil. The developments in the BRICS grouping were influenced by the dynamics of the relationship between emerging economies and developing countries and by geopolitical intentions.

Minister Lipavský in a discussion with the EU's HR/VP, Kaja Kallas, at a Foreign Affairs Council meeting in Brussels

The year 2024 was the hottest on record, yet the UN Climate Change Conference (COP29) held in Baku, Azerbaijan, did not bring about a major shift in efforts to reduce the global climate footprint. Advanced technologies, particularly in the fields of green transformation, digitisation, artificial intelligence and space, were increasingly becoming a tool of international and geopolitical competition and influence. The EU's Artificial Intelligence Act, adopted in 2024, is the world's first ever effort to regulate artificial intelligence.

Against the background of Russia's aggression in Ukraine, Russia's threats to Czechia and to the Euro-Atlantic area, and of the deteriorating security environment in the world, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs played an indispensable role within the state administration system to strengthen Czechia's security and resilience. As part of our contribution to the implementation of the Security Strategy, we exerted our influence in many international organisations such as NATO, EU, UN and the OSCE. We worked in particular on developing the Czech ammunition initiative for Ukraine, on proposing and implementing sanctions, on countering hybrid threats and disinformation, on monitoring the export of military equipment and dual-use goods, and on screening foreign investments. We also advanced cooperation in cybersecurity and contributed to strengthening Czechia's energy and raw materials security.

In an initiative involving financial contributions from other countries, Czechia procures artillery ammunition for Ukraine from countries outside the EU. In 2024, Czechia mediated the delivery of over 1.5 million pieces of large-calibre ammunition to Ukraine. This, too, helped significantly reduce Russia's advantage in the use of artillery.

Since the start of Russia's aggression against Ukraine, Czechia has been calling for the toughest possible sanctions against Russia. In this regard, Czech diplomacy worked towards the unification of these restrictive measures with the aim to prevent their circumvention. Czech diplomacy put forward several proposals to expand the sanctions, and promoted measures to restrict Russia's fossil fuel exports. We were successful in adding to the national sanctions list several entities, including the Russian influence group around the Voice of Europe media platform whose aim was to undermine Ukraine's territorial integrity, sovereignty and freedom. Czechia continued to push for restrictions in order to limit the movement of Russian diplomats to their countries of accreditation.

The Czech Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Defence co-organised the NATO Hybrid Symposium in Prague ©NATO.int

Czech diplomacy supported the government's efforts to establish the National Framework for Countering Hybrid Interference. We also assisted in the development of new hybrid interference response tools on multilateral forums, particularly in NATO and the EU – we organised NATO Hybrid Symposium in Prague and we promoted EU Hybrid Toolbox. We stepped up our own strategic communication, especially through educational posts on social media and by refuting some aggression in domestic as well as foreign policy may become more intense and sophisticated. The Report outlines specific ongoing tasks carried out by our diplomacy, both individually and in coordination with our foreign partners.

Czech diplomacy contributed to a number of projects aimed at strengthening Czechia's energy security, such as the completion of the TAL+ project, the conclusion of a contract for natural gas supplies from Algeria, and the abolition of several German gas transit fees. We also helped finalise the tender for the completion of the Dukovany nuclear power plant.

Czechia, together with Germany, the EU, NATO and other international partners, condemned the cyber-espionage activities of the Russian state actor APT28 associated with the Russian military intelligence agency GRU, which have long targeted European countries, including Czechia.

In international organisations, Czechia engaged mainly in issues concerning European security and prosperity, including the containment of Russia and its influence and the promotion of a global order based on rules and respect for the UN Charter. The curbing of Russia's activities and influence was reflected, for example, in the coordination of steps taken in respect of candidacies to the governing bodies of international organisations. By presenting its candidacies and supporting other countries, Czechia prevented Russia from being elected to the Executive Board of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) or to the Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW).

Minister Lipavský met with the NATO Secretary General, Jens Stoltenberg, at the informal NATO Foreign Ministers meeting in Prague

In 2024, Prague hosted an informal meeting of NATO Foreign Ministers. This was the most important NATO event in Czechia since the NATO Summit in 2002. The threats associated with Russia translate into Czechia's involvement in the Alliance's activities, notably in strengthening its defence capabilities and countering hybrid attacks. Czechia also became involved in the newly launched NATO Security Assistance and Training command for Ukraine as well as in a new financial commitment by the Allies to support Ukraine's defence capabilities. By contributing CZK 5 million to the NATO Trust Fund, Czechia also supported other partners, including Moldova, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Jordan and Mauritania.

EU

Within the EU, our foreign policy activities remained centred around the issues of consistent integration of EU policies and instruments to maximise unity vis-à-vis third countries, especially Russia, comprehensive support for Ukraine and support for the EU enlargement process. Czechia was among the principal driving forces in the EU's support for Ukraine. It emphasised the need for robust and comprehensive political, military and financial support, while also pushing for the most effective measures against Russia. We supported the EU enlargement process through our activities within the Friends of the Western Balkans and Friends of Enlargement groups, as well as through bilateral assistance and other initiatives. In addition to the accession negotiations with Ukraine, we encouraged the opening of accession negotiations with Moldova as well as the decision to open accession negotiations with Bosnia and Herzegovina. As regards the Middle East, we advocated Israel's right to self-defence, the release of Israeli hostages as well as access for humanitarian aid to Gaza. Czechia's participation in the implementation of the EU's Global Gateway strategy is another important aspect of our engagement in the EU.

UN

President Pavel delivers the national address at the 79th session of the UN General Assembly in New York

In addition to our efforts to address Russia's aggression in Ukraine and the Hamas-Israel conflict, our diplomacy – in coordination with the EU and close partners – was involved in negotiating a number of different conflicts and disputes. We continued to promote Czechia's candidacy for a seat on the UN Security Council for the period 2032-2033. We supported the steps taken by the UN Secretary-General to carry out the peace and security agendas, as well as the reform of effective UN governance and the Pact for the Future. By mobilising partners, Czechia remained an active player in disarmament and non-proliferation of weapons of mass destruction. Czech support for gender equality and the empowerment of women was confirmed by the participation of a delegation led by Minister Lipavský at the 68th session of the UN Commission on the Status of Women or by the Minister's intervention in the open debate of the UN Security Council. Czechia also continued to support the UN climate-security nexus and the development of instruments to counter cybercrime leading to the adoption of the relevant convention. Czechia served on the Executive Boards of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO), the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) and the World Food Programme (WFP). The Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) also continued with their joint programme. Czech volunteers were sent to various UN agencies.

Czechia scored a clear success in being re-elected by a high number of votes to the UN Human Rights Council (HRC) for the period 2025-2027. The resolution on equal participation in political and public affairs, which we re-submitted to the HRC after three years, was approved. In 2024, the Register of Damage Caused by the Aggression of the Russian Federation against Ukraine was established under the auspices of the Council of Europe. Its legal basis was negotiated by the Czech Presidency's group of legal rapporteurs. Czechia was active in the negotiation of the Council of Europe Framework Convention on Artificial Intelligence and Human Rights, Democracy and the Rule of Law.

In the OSCE's Human Dimension, Czechia once again supported the launch of the OSCE Moscow Mechanism on forcible deportation of Ukrainian children to Russia. Russia blocked the candidacy of Petr Mareš for the post of OSCE Representative on Freedom of the Media; yet, Petr Mareš was subsequently appointed Special Representative of the Maltese OSCE Chairpersonship - Project Co-ordinator in Ukraine. In the EU, Czechia supported human rights sanction regimes and the incorporation of human rights and suspensive clauses into EU international treaties. Czechia also highlighted the importance of mainstreaming human rights, democracy and the rule of law into all EU policies. Promotion of democracy, human rights and the principles of the rule of law were in the focus of the Czechia's efforts on other international forums such as the Summit for Democracy, the Media Freedom Coalition and the Freedom Online Coalition. In 2024, Czechia sent 92 observers to OSCE election observation missions and 20 observers to EU missions. The most important elections in terms of the number of observers were the parliamentary elections in Georgia and the presidential elections in Moldova.

The first ever visit of the judges of the Court of Justice of the European Union to Czechia was an event of great significance. The International Criminal Court (ICC) continued its investigation into the war crimes in Ukraine which were referred to the ICC by Czechia and other states shortly after Russia had begun its aggression. Czechia filed a joint declaration of intervention in the next phase of the proceedings concerning the Ukraine v. Russian Federation dispute before the International Court of Justice (ICJ) over the interpretation of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide. Czechia signed, subject to ratification, the Ljubljana-The Hague Convention on International Cooperation in the Investigation and Prosecution of the Crime of Genocide, Crimes against Humanity, War Crimes and other International Crimes.

Bilateral partnerships

Neighbourhood

Czechia focused, both at expert and ministerial levels, on current challenges in improving competitiveness, optimising green and digital transformation, and managing the economic and social impacts of our ageing population. As regards the organisation's external dimension, Czechia remained a strong supporter of Ukraine, becoming the third largest contributor to the OECD Ukraine Country Programme. It also focused on strengthening cooperation with Africa.

Within our neighbourhood, we maintained the most dynamic relations with Germany and Poland. Germany was our key strategic partner in seeking answers to security, energy and migration issues. We intensified cross-border cooperation with the federal states of Bavaria and Saxony. We maintained a strong alliance with Poland in our approach to Ukraine and Russia. Our relations with Slovakia continued to be intensive and above-standard, despite our different views on the war in Ukraine and some of the energy security issues. Even though the cooperation of the Visegrad Group slowed down, a 10 per cent increase in contributions to the International Visegrad Fund was agreed. The Slavkov/Austerlitz format, chaired by Czechia from July 2024, remained an important channel for relations with Austria and Slovakia.

Ukraine

Czechia made Ukraine and its all-round support in the face of Russia's aggression the central plank of its foreign policy. In addition to political support at both bilateral and multilateral levels, Czech diplomacy focused on development and humanitarian issues, including the reception of more than 400 thousand refugees. We continued to provide reconstruction assistance in places close to the front line. A great source of help to the Ukrainian war effort was the Czech ammunition initiative. Czechia took a major role in the issues of nuclear and radiation safety, war crimes investigations, the Special Tribunal, sanctions and action against Russia in international organisations. In July, Czechia and Ukraine signed a bilateral security agreement.

Strategic partners

Close cooperation with the United States, especially in supporting Ukraine in its fight against Russia's aggression, helped intensify our relations. Several high-level visits, including by the Czech Prime Minister and President to Washington and by the US Secretary of State to Prague, reaffirmed the strategic depth of the relationship. Further development of defence and security cooperation was greatly encouraged by the conclusion of a contract for the acquisition of twenty-four F-35 aircraft and cooperation on the modernisation of the Czech Armed Forces. Business relations were equally enhanced, as evidenced by the visits of the Minister of Transport and the Minister of Industry and Trade to the USA. In March, the first ever cyber dialogue with the USA took place in Prague.

Our strategic partnership with France was progressing with the implementation of the three-year Action Plan 2023. Cooperation with Italy continued to be dynamic and included confirmation of interest in defence cooperation. Contacts with Romania, as a key country in NATO's South-Eastern flank, were strengthened with closer cooperation on hybrid threats and cybersecurity. Ties with the Netherlands and with the Nordic and Baltic countries also became stronger. In 2024, the supplies of liquefied natural gas from the Netherlands and gas from Norway enabled Czechia to become completely independent of Russian gas.

The broad three-year cooperation framework between the Czech Foreign Ministry and the UK Foreign Office had been implemented in half the time. As a result, a new three-year implementation plan was signed. One of the groundbreaking achievements was cooperation in the energy sector and an equity investment of the ČEZ Group into the Rolls-Royce holding company. In the wake of the 7 October 2023 terrorist attacks, Czechia continued its strategic partnership with Israel and provided the country with support on international forums. President Pavel made an official visit to Israel. In connection with selecting a Korean company in the tender to complete the Dukovany nuclear power plant, the Korean President visited Prague and the two sides adopted a joint three-year action plan for the implementation of their strategic partnership spanning many industrial and technological areas. Minister Lipavský visited Japan as part of the efforts to strengthen cooperation in the security and defence industries and in connection with the establishment of a direct air route.

The Western Balkans and Eastern Europe remained our foreign policy's priority areas. In addition to the support of the EU enlargement, we maintained intensive bilateral contacts at a high political level with candidate countries in the form of bilateral visits or meetings on the margins of multilateral events. Czechia concentrated on the countries of the South Caucasus in an effort to prevent excessive Russian influence. The promotion of human rights and civil society is at the heart of the Czechia's agenda in the region, including in Russia and Belarus.

In the Middle East, Czechia continued to implement the reconstruction programme and approved funding for the next three-year period. In addition to developing a strategic partnership with Israel, Czechia supported the reform efforts of the Palestinian National Authority and engaged in humanitarian support to the civilian population of Gaza. We worked to develop relations with the Gulf countries, especially Qatar and the United Arab Emirates, as evidenced by the opening of the Qatari embassy in Prague and the first ever meeting of the Czech-Emirati Intergovernmental Joint Commission. In the year marking the 100th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations, the Czech Foreign Minister visited Türkiye for the first time in eight years.

During the visit of the Czech Prime Minister to India, a strategic partnership in the field of innovation was established. Significant progress was made in the partnership talks with Vietnam. The Czech President visited Australia and New Zealand for the first time in 30 years and the Foreign Minister visited Australia for the first time in 20 years. The Foreign Minister's visit to Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan goes hand in hand with the efforts to deepen relations with the Central Asian region.

Czechia maintained its intensive contacts with African partners. Some of the notable moments included the visit of the Czech President to Rwanda, the President of the Senate of the Czech Parliament to Zambia, or the visit of the Czech Deputy Prime Minister, Marian Jurečka, to Ethiopia, Republic of South Africa, and Gabon. Czechia signed an agreement on military cooperation with Morocco and an agreement on the supply of natural gas with Algeria.

The relations with the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean built on the previous good momentum. After Minister Lipavský's visit to Brazil and Argentina, the President of Argentina visited Czechia.

In 2024, the network of economic diplomats working at embassies provided export assistance to more than 1,200 Czech exporters. We worked closely with the Czech Confederation of Industry, the Czech Chamber of Commerce and other professional associations and unions to facilitate the participation of Czech businesses in trade missions accompanying Czech top-level officials.

informed on economic and scientific trends abroad. The export.cz website featured over 500 articles published by Czech diplomacy. We also updated the interactive Global Industry Opportunity Map which, along with meetings and consultations with economic diplomats, enabled Czech businesses to gain up-to-date information on foreign markets and to network. We organised 13 economic and scientific seminars. During the traditional economic diplomats' conference, the economic diplomats consulted with more than 300 companies in 1,900 meetings on a single day.

There were as many as 285 economic diplomacy projects (PROPEDs) and 18 marketing activities worth a total of CZK 60 million implemented; and 10 additional projects worth a total of CZK 1.8 million under the Programme for the Support of Economic Activities Abroad (PROPEAs) in 9 countries.

Minister Lipavský and the President of the Czech Academy of Sciences, Eva Zajímalová, signed a memorandum of cooperation

In 2024, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs focused on promoting science diplomacy and on supporting Czech academia and research. At the beginning of the year, the priorities of science diplomacy were presented to diplomats accredited to Czechia, followed by successful innovation projects in Japan, USA, France, Thailand and other countries. The embassies and honorary consulates organised a number of science diplomacy projects in the areas of AI, semiconductors, quantum technologies, space, biotechnology, support for start-ups and innovative businesses. In cooperation with the association Czexpats in Science, they also arranged meetings of Czech scientists working abroad.

In addition to the compulsory contributions, Czechia makes annual monetary donations to international organisations. In 2024, we contributed a total of CZK 50 million to nearly 40 organisations to help finance around 80 projects. These involved mainly activities related to Russia's aggression against Ukraine, such as investigations into war crimes and crimes against humanity, and support for the International Atomic Energy Agency.

coalitions. By the end of 2024, a total of 10 Czech soldiers were serving on UN missions, 98 on EU and NATO missions (outside the Euro-Atlantic area) and 66 in other formats. Areas of priority for Czech deployment included Eastern Europe, the Western Balkans and the Middle East. Nevertheless, we were also present in Libya, Mali, Somalia, South Sudan, Central African Republic and the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

The mid-term evaluation of the Development Cooperation Strategy of Czechia 2018-2030, coordinated by Czech diplomacy, showed how relevant the selected geographical and thematic priorities were, how much the communication under the Czech Aid logo had improved and how much predictable funding was needed.

Bilateral development cooperation programmes with five priority countries were approved for the period 2024-2030: Bosnia and Herzegovina, Ethiopia, Cambodia, Moldova, Zambia and Cambodia. The programme with Georgia was suspended in view of the situation in the country and the joint EU action. The new programmes emphasise a comprehensive approach and the linking of bilateral and European projects.

With the support of Czech diplomacy and the Bilateral Assistance Programme for Ukraine, two Czech proposals for funding from the EU Instrument for Ukraine were submitted: a guarantee programme of the National Development Bank for the reconstruction of critical infrastructure with the involvement of Czech businesses, and a programme of the National Development Bank and Czech Development Agency for the renovation of hospitals.

Humanitarian and stabilisation assistance to Ukraine and to Ukrainian refugees focused on access to emergency shelters, water, sanitation and food for the displaced; on energy and heating sources for public buildings; on basic healthcare; and on demining of agricultural land and populated areas. In addition, two development projects were launched under the Czech Development Agency to process agricultural produce and address the environmental impacts of war.

In 2024, a total of CZK 942.3 million was earmarked for foreign development cooperation –including CZK 405 million for bilateral projects and programmes under the Czech Development Agency; CZK 115.5 million for development scholarships under the Ministry of Education and Ministry of Agriculture; and CZK 422.5 million for bilateral and multilateral cooperation under the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. A total of CZK 500 million was earmarked for the humanitarian, stabilisation, reconstruction and economic assistance programme for Ukraine, including CZK 280 million for the activities of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The funds earmarked for other humanitarian assistance totalled CZK 165 million, which was spent on 35 activities in 28 countries. Czechia responded to natural disasters (such as drought in Zambia, drought fires in Bulgaria, Chile, Greece and North Macedonia, and floods in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Brazil and the Philippines), conflicts and forced displacement (Gaza, Lebanon, Myanmar, Sudan) and long-term complex crises, especially in the Horn of Africa, Sahel and Middle East regions. Investment in prevention and readiness continued, including investment in early warning systems and dryland restoration for agricultural activities in Africa.

Transition cooperation provides practical support to human rights, independent media and civil society. In priority development cooperation countries, 45 subsidised projects and 63 local transition and media projects were implemented for a total of CZK 112.2 million. Transition projects in Ukraine were also funded from the assistance programme for Ukraine. In response to the attacks against the civil society in Georgia, funding for Georgian civil society and independent media was increased.

Public diplomacy and education

Czech diplomacy pro-actively communicated foreign policy issues to the Czech public as well as to third countries through our embassies by means of social media, public diplomacy events, media releases and direct public engagement. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs organised over 55 discussions on foreign policy for the public and for students across Czechia. High visibility communication activities included the campaign for the DROZD system, the campaign for the 25th anniversary of Czechia's membership of NATO and the 20th anniversary of Czechia's accession to the EU. Another notable public diplomacy event was the Development Day with a programme for the public accompanied by an exhibition called "Czechia Helps (also) in the Middle East" displayed at the Smíchov Embankment in Prague. The Open Day at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, featuring for the first time a varied programme in the Czernin Palace garden, was attended by impressive 3,200 visitors. In addition, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs organised the 2nd edition of the programmes for young leaders from the Western Balkans and Eastern Europe (Duke Wenceslas) and Africa (Cool Czechia).

The embassies carried out some 860 public diplomacy events, which focused mainly on Czech support for Ukraine in the face of Russia's aggression and on the 25th anniversary of Czechia's accession to NATO. The cultural projects' emphasis was on the celebration of the Year of Czech Music and the 200th anniversary of Bedřich Smetana's birth. On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Josef Škvorecký, we prepared an exhibition exploring the role of publishing houses in exile. Other noteworthy projects organised at the embassies included the exhibition of Czech crystal artworks at the Basilica Cistern in Istanbul, the Mutual Inspirations Festival in Washington, D.C., and the Czech Culture Day in Luxor, Egypt.

The Diplomatic Academy was opened as an organisation partly funded by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Its purpose is to modernise and further develop the Ministry's staff training, to offer educational services to other ministries and to operate in the public space. In the first year of the Academy's existence, the first group of new Ministry officials was prepared for their diplomatic careers, Czech candidates to the EU institutions were trained and the Academy helped introduce the work in diplomacy and the European institutions to the Czech public.

Czech diplomacy worked together with both Czech and foreign think-tanks and universities to broaden its expertise. In partnership with the Slovak think-tank Globsec, we hosted the renowned Globsec Forum in Prague for the first time. We continued to collaborate with the Brussels Institute for Geopolitics (BIG), the European Council on Foreign Relations (ECFR), the Atlantic Council of the USA, and ThinkVisegrad. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs approached Czech think tanks and universities with offers of projects administered by the Technology Agency of Czechia, with requests for expert analyses and with offers of subsidies for foreign policy priorities. In this way, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs supported 16 projects of 13 organisations with a total of CZK 3.2 million.

Minister Lipavský awarded the Distinguished Contribution to Diplomacy Medal to the EC Vice-President for Values and Transparency, Věra Jourová

Minister Lipavský awarded 12 Gratias Agit awards for promoting the good name of the Czechia abroad and 14 Distinguished Contribution to Diplomacy Medals. Many of these accolades were given to Czech compatriots long living abroad.

The most notable success of our compatriot policy was the approval of the postal ballot for Czechs abroad. As part of the promotion of Czech language education abroad, efforts were being made to link the compatriot and Czech national school systems. For instance, the International Baccalaureate (IB) is now recognised as a full equivalent to the Czech secondary school leaving examination, when applying to Czech universities. In addition, Czech language tuition was introduced at six Bavarian secondary schools.

In the context of our compatriot policy, language camps organised in Czechia and Croatia for compatriot children from Ukraine and Croatia enjoyed constant interest. Similarly, one of the significant successes in this area was the return of the Czech House in Belgrade to Czech hands and the opening of the Czech Centre, the first in the Western Balkans, in the building. The Czech town of Poděbrady hosted the well-established Czech language course for compatriots and Prague hosted another year of the Czech language teaching course for teachers-compatriots. The International Conference of Czech Schools Abroad took place at Czernin Palace. Together with the Ministry of Education and its House of Foreign Cooperation, we prepared a project to send Czech studies students to compatriot schools and associations worldwide.

The MFA welcomed at Czernin Palace representatives of Sokol clubs from ten countries around the world participating in the XVIIth All-Sokol Slet

A total of CZK 42 million was earmarked for donations to compatriot associations in support of Czech cultural heritage. The Komensky Czech school association in Vienna received a support of CZK 3 million, non-profit organisations providing professional support to compatriots received CZK 1 million, and CZK 2.2 million was allocated for the dissemination of Czech language and literature in the world. The compatriots also commemorated important traditional anniversaries, such as 50 years since the establishment of the National Czech and Slovak Museum and Library in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, or 50 years since the founding of the CzechoSlovakian Country Club in Sydney. On the occasion of the All-Sokol Slet in Prague, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs welcomed Sokol clubs from all over the world.

By the end of 2024, Czechia maintained diplomatic relations with 197 countries. To develop relations with these countries and to promote national interests, Czechia relied on 118 representative offices, including 92 embassies, 7 permanent missions and delegations to international organisations, 17 consulates-general, 3 consular posts and 2 other types of representative offices. Their activities were complemented by 28 branches of Czech Centres, 230 honorary consulates, an integrated foreign network of the Ministry of Industry and Trade and CzechTourism representations.

Czech citizens living or temporarily staying abroad made use of the continuously modernised and improved consular services at our embassies and consulates. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs continued to develop its Consular Operations and Information Centre and set up a telephone information line to answer travellers' questions and a 24-hour emergency line serving the emergency lines of all Czech embassies and consulates in Europe. The system for optional registration of citizens travelling abroad (DROZD) was increasingly popular with the public, used by almost 336 thousand travellers in 2024 (compared to 208 thousand in 2023). In the summer, a new mobile version of DROZD was launched as an integral part of the enhanced Citizen's Portal mobile application with additional features.

Travelling abroad

In 2024, the most popular destinations for Czechs included Croatia (800 thousand), Greece (740 thousand), Italy (520 thousand), Türkiye (350 thousand), Slovakia (340 thousand), Austria (230 thousand), Spain (230 thousand) and Bulgaria (200 thousand). Poland became a newly discovered destination, with a majority of holidaymakers visiting on an individual basis. About half of all holidays abroad were booked through travel agencies for trips mostly to Greece, Spain, Italy, Türkiye, Egypt, Croatia and Bulgaria.

To ensure that the summer tourist season would be a success, consular offices were temporarily re-established in Rijeka, Split and Burgas and our embassy in Athens and honorary consulate in Barcelona were allocated extra staff. In Bulgarian Nessebar and Primorsko and in Croatian Sibenik, Omiš and Vodice, Czech police officers once again joined their local colleagues to patrol the area. In 2024, the Consular Service successfully covered three major international sporting events: the Summer Olympic Games and the Summer Paralympic Games in France and the UEFA Euro in Germany. Other areas requiring careful consular attention were the situations in Ukraine and the Middle East, including the evacuation of 29 Czech citizens and 5 of their family members from Lebanon. In the summer it was necessary to provide consular support in the aftermath of the fires in Greece and Croatia.

Consular statistics reported 557 deaths, 200 hospitalisations, 1,026 victims of crime and 1,088 Czech citizens remanded in custody abroad. Czech diplomacy cooperated closely with travel agency associations, other ministries and authorities, assistance companies and insurers. A significant role in handling different consular situations and cases was also played by honorary consuls, who met in Prague for the fourth time.

Russia's war aggression against Ukraine continued to affect the intake of visa applications at the traditionally busiest offices in Ukraine and Russia; other factors included the ongoing lack of interest of China's population in foreign travel. Yet, the year 2024 saw an increase of approximately 9 per cent in the visa application intake.

Visa and residence permit applications (Schengen visas, long-stay visas and residence permits) submitted in New Delhi/Istanbul/Riyadh/Astana/Beijing/Abu Dhabi/Manila/Kuwait/Ankara/Shanghai

Of the almost 186 thousand applications, most were for short-term Schengen visas (151 thousand), for tourist purposes (97 thousand) and business purposes (20 thousand). Applications for long-term visas and stays (35 thousand) were mainly for employee cards (14 thousand) and for study purposes (11 thousand). As many as 126 thousand short-stay Schengen visas were granted, representing 81 per cent of all applications. The highest visa workload was at the consular sections of the embassies in New Delhi, Istanbul, Riyadh, Astana and Beijing.

In 2024, the Foreign Ministry carried on with its existing projects, especially the ones involving large investments into real estate abroad.

Renovation of the building of the Czechia's Permanent Mission to the UN in New York, in progress since 2021, is to be completed (including interior furnishings) in the second half of 2025. The renovated building will revert to residential use and its new extension will provide additional space.

The construction of a new embassy building in Canberra entered the final stage. The works (including installation of interior furnishings) were completed in the first half of 2024. The three level functionalist building, in actual use since 1 October 2024, was opened officially by the Czech President in November 2024.

Extensive renovation works in the office building of Czechia's Permanent Representation to the EU began in summer 2024. The building is to become more energy-efficient and offer better working conditions for the staff. The works should be completed by December 2025 and the building should be back to normal operation by mid-April 2026.

The design development documents for the renovation of the building of the Czech Embassy in Berlin were finalised, and a construction permit issued. The task ahead is now to work on the construction documents (including interior furnishings). The commencement date for the construction phase has not yet been set because of the complexities encountered in the pre-construction phases.

In Czechia, an important project was to renovate and enlarge the Tuscany Palace's loft area and reroof the whole building. The project commenced in March 2023, and the works including interior furnishings were completed in 2024. The certificate of occupancy was issued in January 2025 and the office space has been in use since February 2025.

In 2024, the Foreign Ministry completed the comprehensive refurbishment of bathrooms, toilets and kitchens in its staff accommodation facility in Prague. The renovation of all bathrooms and toilets and replacement of kitchen units, en suite as well as communal, improved comfort for the Foreign Ministry's staff using the facility.

<sup>2</sup> The mandate covered both the OIR and NMI operations. The authorized number of personnel to be deployed on the two operations (counted together) was 20.

<sup>3</sup> EUMAM UA – the authorized number of personnel was initially 70; this was increased to 100 starting from November 2024.

The training of Ukrainian army personnel took place in Poland and the programme was structured into multi-week cycles with intervals between cycles. 30 September and 31 December both fell on an interval, which is the reason for the low numbers of our personnel reported on these dates.

<sup>4</sup> Spain took over the role of the leading state in Slovakia on 1 July 2024. The Czech Republic then significantly reduced its military presence in the Multinational Battlegroup. A helicopter unit was deployed in Poland throughout 2024 - the deployment ended on 20 December 2024 and the unit was not replaced.

<sup>5</sup> The national mandate approved in November 2024 extended the mandate granted in autumn 2023. It authorised continued deployment of Defence Ministry forces and assets. This time, the authorised number of personnel was 40. The training of Ukrainian army personnel took place in Poland and the programme was structured into multi-week cycles with intervals between cycles. The personnel authorised under this mandate included personnel serving on NSATU.

<sup>6</sup> The NATO Security Assistance and Training for Ukraine (NSATU) was established at the Washington Summit in 2024 to bring the support provided to Ukraine under an overarching framework. The new Allied command is based in Wiesbaden, Germany. NSATU coordinates the provision of military equipment and training for Ukraine. In addition, it will support the development of Ukraine's defence forces according to NATO standards.

<sup>9</sup> The Deployable Communication Module (DCM) is Czechia's capability placed under the Allied operational command (NATO assigned force) for a range of purposes, including deployment on international operations. The DCM (15 personnel) served in Germany (NSATU) from August 2024 until February 2025. The DCM (4 personnel) also served in Iraq (NMI) from November 2024 until February 2025.

<sup>10</sup> No mandate is required for deployment on United Nations military observer missions. In 2024, Czechia had one observer on the UNMIK (Kosovo), two on the MONUSCO (Democratic Republic of the Congo), three on the MINUSCA (Central African Republic), and one on the UNMOGIP (India/Pakistan). Under a previous agreement with the UN, one of the ranks held by Czechia on the UNMOGIP was terminated without replacement in November 2024.
