

北京师范大学国际与比较教育研究院
The Institute of International and Comparative Education
Beijing Normal University

INTERNATIONAL MASTER PROGRAM IN EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND POLICY (COMPARATIVE EDUCATION)

In collaboration with the Institute of International Education, Stockholm University, the Institute of International and Comparative Education, Beijing Normal University offers a Master program in Educational Leadership and Policy (Comparative Education) for International Students. Now applications 2013 are available!

This program will enroll 25 international students. With generous financial support from the Chinese government, around the top 40% of the international students will be awarded a full Chinese Government Scholarship based on candidates, academic excellence covering their tuition fees and living expenses for two years. Other students will have the opportunity to get Beijing Government Scholarships which will cover tuition for at least 1 year.

This program is modeled on the core-course system of the Institute of International Education, Stockholm University, which has been proved to be effective for over 30 years. It aims to train talented individuals with highly developed skills in international and comparative education, planning and management, and abilities in working in international and bilateral organizations, governmental authorities, NGOs and related areas. We are making great efforts to create more opportunities for students from all over the world to know China and her Culture and we continue to strive to provide high quality education and excellent service for international students.

All courses will be taught in English. Based on the rich international resources of Beijing Normal University and Stockholm University, the program will have a strong team of professors from leading education institutes and universities worldwide, and it will enroll students from all over the world. We are sure this program will provide students with a chance to learn and live in a real international and multicultural environment.

This program is a 2-year teaching and research program; students are required to complete a number of courses and a Master thesis based on independent research. It allows students to fully develop their academic capacities. It will provide students with qualifications, skills and competencies to apply for Ph.D. programs in comparative education at Beijing Normal University and elsewhere.

Deadline for Chinese Government Scholarship applications: March 1, 2013

Deadline for program applications: June 15, 2013

For more information about this program, please visit: www.compe.cn and www.bnulxsh.com.

For academic affairs, please contact:

LIU Baocun

Professor and Director of the Institute of International and Comparative Education

Email: liubaocun@bnu.edu.cn

Tel. +86 (10) 58808309 Fax. +86 (10) 58800597

For administrative affairs, please contact:

LIU Min

Assistant Professor, the Institute of International and Comparative Education

Email: intlmaedu@bnu.edu.cn

Tel. +86 (10) 58805294 Fax. +86 (10) 58800597

