

FEMA

FACT SHEET

DISASTER ASSISTANCE FOR FOREIGN NATIONALS

Background: Before, during and after hurricanes, floods and other major disasters, the welfare and safety of non-U.S. citizen survivors may be jeopardized if, due to their immigration status they:

- Refuse or do not understand guidance and direction from emergency management authorities concerning voluntary or mandatory evacuations or protective measures.
- Fear taking advantage of emergency shelters, whether provided by voluntary agencies, faith-based organizations, or government.
- Fail to utilize many services provided to evacuees and victims by voluntary agencies, faith-based organizations or government.

➤ All persons, regardless of citizenship status, are eligible to receive the following non-cash services:

Mass Care

- Sheltering
- Feeding
- Distribution of Emergency Relief Supplies
- Basic First Aid
- Disaster Welfare Information

Emergency Assistance

- Mass Evacuation
- Family Reunification
- Household Pets and Service Animals
- Crisis Counseling
- Disaster Legal Services
- Functional Needs (Special Needs), Medical and Non-conventional Sheltering
- Voluntary Organization Assistance
- Disaster Case Management

NOTE ON CASH ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

U.S. law requires that one must be a U.S. Citizen, Non-Citizen National, or a Qualified Alien to be eligible for FEMA cash assistance programs, including the Individuals and Households Program and Disaster Unemployment Assistance.

PREPAREDNESS TIPS

- When traveling to the United States, visitors are encouraged to register contact information and travel plans with their country's Embassy or Consulate.
- In the event of a disaster or impending threat, everyone must be prepared to respond to directions from local government authorities.
- To locate lost loved ones during a disaster, FEMA encourages visitors to use the American Red Cross Safe and Well website, www.safeandwell.org, and/or the FEMA National Emergency Family Registry and Locator System (1-800-588-9822), when activated during a disaster. These tools, as well as social media websites, may enable you to communicate your location to family and friends.
- If you have a lost or missing child, you can call the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children free of charge at 1-800-843-5678.
- Visit www.ready.gov to learn about actions you can take to make yourself and your loved ones more resilient to disasters.

"FEMA's mission is to help people before, during, and after disasters."